

Overview

This Chartered Institute of Occupational Safety and Health (IOSH) course, comprising 5 modules, provides an internationally recognised certificate in health and safety. IOSH Working Safely course provides a fresh and exciting approach to safety training designed to facilitate learning by encouraging delegate participation through various quizzes and games etc. rather than simply bombarding them with legislation.

Outcomes and benefits

The course is designed to train employees to make sure that their actions in the workplace contribute to health and safety, and that they clearly understand their health and safety responsibilities. The course aims to provide a basic understanding of general health and safety requirements and to encourage safer working practices and habits.

Delegates

Working safely is ideal for employees at any level, and in any sector. The number of delegates in one course shall be minimum 10 and maximum 20.

Content

- Defining what is meant by safe working
- Identifying sources of hazards and risks
- Understanding of workplace precautions for controlling and protecting themselves from common workplace hazards and risks including fire, manual handling, electricity, chemicals and substances, noise, slips trips and falls, housekeeping, stress and more.
- How to seek advice on workplace precautions and assist management in risk assessment and risk control
- The importance of contributing to the improvement of the organisations' safety performance through individual compliance with the employer's safety policy and management systems; reporting of accidents; consulting and communicating with supervisors and management on safety issues and identifying competence for safe working

Venue

As per Client's organization.

Duration

The course lasts for one day including assessments.

ANAR Eğitim ve Danışmanlık Hizmetleri Ltd.Şti.

Licensed Training Provider For IOSH Working Safely & IOSH Managing Safely